Nancy, I am in the social security office here in salt lake city, and they are saying that they have no record of my current disability claim, and they don't even know that social security sent me the first denial letter at the end of last summer. There is something wrong here and we need to look into it as soon as possible. Please.

I apologize for the delay in responding, I have been out of the office.

That is so weird, I am not sure of what is happening there. I am back today; I will try and get an update.

Thank you!
